

Prepare Your Gutters For A Leaf Free Fall, THIS SPRING

SPRING is the perfect time to think ahead to cooler weather and prepare your gutters for the dreaded fall leaf season. Gutters are very important part of your home. They collect rainwater from your roof and channel it away from your home. However, gutters can get easily clogged. This causes water build up which can then lead to water staining your home or rotting materials. There is finally a better solution to climbing a ladder in order clean the gutters yourself: K-Guard Leaf Free gutter systems!

K-Guard is the best maintenance gutter system on the market today. Unlike other leaf guard systems, K-Guard is a completely engineered, fully integrated, leaf free system. They offer protection, strength, durability, capacity and attractiveness. The lifespan of this K-Guard system is also unlimited. The coatings on the gutter and hood will easily last 20 years, the base materials will not corrode, and the internal hangers (which are protected from the elements by the gutter and hood) will last almost indefinitely.

The K-Guard system's strength is from their patented, high-strength hangers made from all-weather polymers. These hangers support the hood and keep your gutters from sagging or losing their form.

Unlike most gutter systems that have sharp corners, K-Guard is known for it's attractiveness because it has a smooth, curved, crown-molding-like appearance. This look complements and adds beauty and value to your home. You can even ask a gutter guard professional about color options that will best suite your home's style.

K-Guard gutter system stands out from the other gutter systems on the market for a number of reasons. Firstly, with K-Guard you aren't simply getting a gutter cover. You're getting a full gutter system, gutter and hood, unless your gutters are new, only then can they can add the guards without changing the system. K-Guard is designed to work with any type of roof from slate and metal to traditional shingle roofing. Most conventional gutters are hung too close to the roof line to allow room for any sort of cover to fit correctly. Due to this height problem, some add-on products are often attached into or over existing shingles, potentially voiding your roof warranty. K-Guard is a non-roof intrusive system that doesn't need to alter your roofing in any way as to not void your warranty. As an added touch, you can have heat cables installed in your gutters to reduce ice during the winter months.

Trust all your gutter system needs to Leaf Free Gutters and Roofing. They are a family-run business with years of experience. Their "Leaf Free" gutter system is the best maintenance-free gutter system on the market today. They are the first K-Guard Leaf Free gutter system representative. Gutters are not their only speciality. With over 41 years experience, Leaf Free Home Improvements has earned a reputation as a leading gutter, siding, window, and roofing contractor in Bergen County, NJ. They are also certified IKO and GAF roofing installers. For more information, call 201-265-4500 or visit them online at LeafFree.com.